TO BEGIN WORK ON ELECTRIC ROAD TO MERRILL IN SPRING

Active Operations for Construction of Chicago & Wisconsin Ry. Will Start As Soon As Frost Is Gone

The coming of spring this year will mean more to a large number of the residents of Wisconsin than the arrival of the birds and the first blossoms of the early flowers for, as soon as the frost is out of the ground work on the new line of the Chicago and Wisconsin railroad, which will extend from this city to Merrill, will be commenced. The survey for this new electric line has already been completed as far as Stevens Point and is being run from Stevens Point to Merrill. Work will begin simultaneously at three points, from Madison, Portage and Stevens Point. At Portage a street car system in connection with the railroad, will be operated, the city council of that place having granted the company the desired franchise. The project is of immense importance to the residents of the counties north of here on account of giving them better transportation facilities and will serve as a link between the central and southern sections of the state. It will be of great economic value. The country through which the line passes is rich but not fully developed on account of the difficulty which the producers have in getting their goods into the markets. With the line to Madison and Janesville, their products can be marketed in these cities at less cost; the cost of selling in Chicago will not be prohibitive so they can compete with other sections that are now supplying to the metropolis. Illinois and Indiana are now shipping to the Chicago markets and because of better shipping facilities are able to put their goods up for sale at a price lower than that of the Wisconsin producers. When the field in Wisconsin is fully developed it will mean greater possibilities for farmers and for all concerned with the furnishing of the food supply for millions of people. Other benefits will accrue from the new railroad. At many of the small cities north of Madison, fruits and other products that cannot be raised in that section are a luxury rather than a necessity as they are considered in the other towns which have the benefit of better railroad connections. The Chicago and Wisconsin Railroad company have taken no action with regard to the line between Janesville and Madison, evidently awaiting to see what will be done by the Chicago and North Western company in connection with these two cities. This company is delaying the commencement of operations until the ground has softened up after the winter frosts and will then push things through to a rapid completion of the line. That they intend to start as soon as possible is assured. Chief Engineer Joseph Ellis, who has been here for some time past making the preliminary arrangements, has been joined by E. T. Smith of Columbus, Ohio, who will assist Mr. Ellis in his work. It is possible that the Chicago and Wisconsin company may abandon the idea of laying a track to this city. It is very convenient arrangement of the company which is to build the line to Madison, may secure satisfactory connections with Janesville. When completed the line, according to the surveys already made, besides the cities already mentioned, will traverse the entire length of Adams county and touch at the towns of Friendship, Weston, Briggsville, Lodi, and Middleton.

PHONE COMPANIES' ANNUAL TRIBUTE

$1,234.87 License Money Has Been Turned Over to City on Gross Receipts of $46,027.70

Tribute amounting to $1,234.87 has been paid into the treasury of the city of Janesville by the two telephone companies. The municipality gets 85 per cent of the license fees and the state the balance. According to its accounting the Wisconsin Co.'s gross receipts amounted to $18,397.53 during the past year and the city's share of the four per cent tax thereon is $625.52—an increase of $35.23 over last year. Because its total business is less than $100,000 the Rock County Telephone company with its gross receipts of $28,265.11 and its subscribers, pays a fee of only 2 1/2 per cent and the city's share is $599.55—an increase of $39.37 over last year.

BURR M'INTOSH IN HIS STERLING PLAY

"A Gentleman From Mississippi" Again Pleases the Play-Goers at the Myers Theatre Last Evening

Whatever else may be said for it, "A Gentleman From Mississippi" with Burr McIntosh in the title role and William Denning playing the part of "Red Haines" is worth seeing a second time, if only for the gripping appeal for common honesty and good citizenship. The audience for the return engagement at the Myers theatre last evening should have been larger. There had been one or two minor changes in the cast and these were not for the better, but the performance as a whole did not suffer materially. The play was thoroughly enjoyed by the enthusiastic and responsive spectators. Mr. McIntosh is doing private political missionary work for the kind of politics which he believes is exemplified by the southern senator of the play. It is his conviction that, because of indifference bred by an unwarranted sense of security, the influence of the average citizen regarding his own country is appalling, and the sectional feeling that prevails, a curse. Here and there, when he has the opportunity, he is therefore giving an illustrated lecture endeavoring to educate public opinion in favor of ship subsidies and other expedients which he thinks are necessary. At Joliet prison last Sunday he lectured to 1,400 convicts. During the Holy week he will forsake the stage and deliver addresses in Peoria, Cleveland, and a number of other cities.

VAUGHAN WILL CASE HAS BEEN DISMISSED

Attempt of Mrs. True, Sister of Late Divine, to Break Will, Falls in Grant Co. Circuit Court

The attempt of Mrs. Johanna True, sister of the late Father L. J. Vaughan, from the decision of the Grant county probate court, to the circuit court, in order to break the will of Father Vaughan, was heard and the case dismissed. The estate of the late divine was valued at $20,000 and certain amounts were left to each of the four relatives, the three sisters and the one brother. Besides these seven of his intimate friends were remembered with small bequests. In order to have the will set aside, Mrs. True made the appeal to the Grant county court. The case was heard at Lancaster.

ALDRICH AND CANNON GIVE TAFT PLEDGE

Leaders of House and Senate Agree to Push President's Bills to Passage

Washington, Mar. 2.—President Taft summoned Senator Aldrich, Speaker Cannon and Senator Cramer to the White House and after an extended conference the following agreements were arrived at: That the postal savings bank, the railroad, the statehood, the injunction and the conservation bills are to be considered in the order named, so far as is possible, and rushed to speedy passage.

The senate and house organizations, as represented by Aldrich and Cannon are to do all in their power to secure the adoption of the president's measures substantially as outlined.

The senate is to begin work at once with the passage of the postal savings bank bill on Thursday, after which the railroad or the interstate commerce measure is to be taken up. In the house all of the big supply bills are to be disposed of first, in order that the decks may be clear to rush through the administration bills as fast as they are received from the senate. The conference assured the president of the earnestness of their cooperation; and they apparently convinced him that a solid front will be presented against any effort to materially amend the measures upon which the president has pledged the faith of his administration.

ARREST PUGILIST FOR SWINDLE

Harry Forbes Is Held as Member of Mabray Gang

Troy, N. Y., Mar. 2.—United States Post Office Inspector Swenson arrived here to take charge of the case against Harry Forbes, the boxer, who was defeated by Abe Attel in this city Monday night. Forbes was arrested after the bout on a technical charge of illegally developing he is charged with being a party to one of the greatest swindles the sporting game has ever known.

The indictment under which Forbes was arrested was found at Corbett Bluffs, Ind., September 21, 1909. John C. Mabray, now awaiting trial at Corbett Bluffs, is accused of being the head of the gang.

CORPORATION TAX LIMIT OVER

Time Has Expired for Making Returns on Income

Washington, Mar. 2.—The time has expired for corporations to make returns of their incomes and general business under the corporation tax law. The treasury department will know in a few days how many have obeyed the law, and how many have elected to pay fines of from $1,000 to $5,000 each rather than make such returns.

As the returns were made to internal revenue collectors throughout the country, the commissioner of internal revenue has not even a guess yet of the proportion of concerns that have obeyed the law.

Are Drugs Necessary? Do Drugs Cure Disease? Can Nature be Assisted?

If people were born right and afterwards lived right, there would be no need for medicine. Every doctor knows this. No do other well-informed people. One thing more. When a person lives wrong, or acquires bodily weakness by heredity, medicine can do only very little. Medicine cannot cure him. Only charlatans claim that medicines will cure disease. Medicines may palliate symptoms. Medicines may urge the powers of Nature to resist disease. Medicines sometimes arouse the efforts of the human body to right itself against derangements. This is the most that medicine can do. A man accidentally puts his finger in the fire. Instinctively he wets his finger in his mouth, then blows on it for the cooling effect. This is no cure. He knows it very well. But it makes it feel better for the time being. People eat unwholesome food. This produces dyspepsia or indigestion. The only rational cure is to eat correctly. Yet if a palliative is at hand the pangs of indigestion can be mitigated, the throes of dyspepsia assuaged. The medicine cannot be said to have cured. It simply palliates disagreeable symptoms. The cure must come through right living. Take Peruna, for instance. No one claims Peruna is a cure for dyspepsia. But Peruna will stimulate the stomach to perform its function properly. Peruna will increase the flow of digestive fluids, without which digestion cannot be carried on at all. It will increase the roll of food, the appetite. It is admitted that all this can be accomplished by right living, but there are so many people who either will not or do not know how to eat correctly that a tremendous amount of good can be done by the wise use of Peruna. A stomach that has been frequently abused performs the function of digestion very lazily. Such a stomach allows the food to remain undigested for some time after it is swallowed. This leads to fermentation of the food. Sour stomach is the result. This goes on week after week, until the blood is poisoned with the products of fermentation. This condition is very apt to produce rheumatism. It is not claimed that Peruna will cure rheumatism. Nothing will cure rheumatism but correct living. But it is claimed that Peruna will assist a badly abused stomach to perform its work. Ask Your Druggist for a Free Peruna Almanac for 1910.

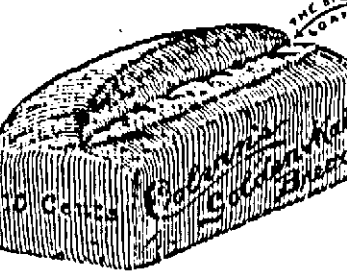

If a person would correct his habits, permit in right eating and temperate ways; undoubtedly the stomach would right itself, the blood would rid itself of the poison, and everything would be right. But as said before there are a multitude of people who will not or cannot adopt right methods of living. To such people Peruna is a boon. A dose before meals will assist the stomach to do its work. This prevents fermentation of the food, brings about normal digestion, and all the train of ills that follow indigestion disappear. In other words, Peruna is helpful to those who live badly, or those who have acquired some chronic weakness. Peruna does not cure, but it assists the powers of Nature to bring about a cure. The whip does not increase the power of the horse to pull a load, but judicious use of it stimulates the horse to use his powers at the right time, without which he could not have pulled the load. This illustrates the effect of Peruna, or any other good remedy upon the system. Taken at the right time, it calls forth the powers of the human system to meet the encroachments of disease, and thus cures a ailment, if not entirely ends, the diseased action. No one should ever attempt to substitute medicine in the place of right living. In the end such an attempt will prove a disaster. But an occasional use of the right medicine at the right time is a godsend, and no reasonable person will undertake to deny it. Those who know how to use Peruna find it of untold value. By and by the world will get wise enough so that through correct living no medicine at all will be needed. But that time has not arrived. In the meantime, while the world is approaching that perfection in which all medicine will be eliminated, Peruna is a handy remedy to have in the house. Slight derangements of the stomach, slight catarrhal attacks of the liver, the throat, bronchial tubes, lungs or bowels; these attacks are sure to lead to grave diseases, and can be averted by the judicious use of Peruna. Wouldn't you like to read a few unalloyed testimonials from people who have used Peruna, and who stand ready to confirm the above statements concerning it. If so, address the Peruna Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio, and we will send some, please.

Choosing a Piano To Advantage

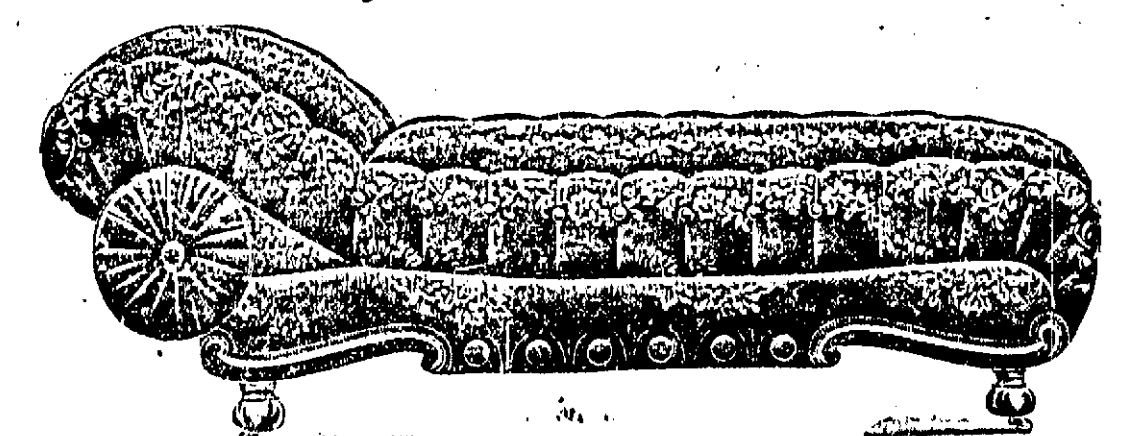

With all the offers of low prices and claims for superiority made for certain ordinary pianos, the fact remains that the demand for the better grades, sold on their actual merits, is increasing.

People with sound reasoning faculties are not deceived by statements which will not stand when intelligent investigation and fair comparisons are made. Unfortunately most buyers are not sufficiently experienced to judge of the relative worth of different pianos and are often led to purchase instruments which later prove to be disappointing. There need be no difficulty, however, in choosing to advantage—provided the right choice is made of the store at which you buy. In this connection we ask you to consider our custom of showing purchasers pianos, stating exactly the difference between them and offering them at consistent prices. That enables the buyer to choose with an intelligent knowledge of just the kind of instrument he is getting. This and the fact that every piano in our stock has been made by men who are experts in their respective lines and passed upon by experts, guarantee you of receiving the full value for the price. Office open Saturday's only.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY

One patient said she had been prostrated in bed for two weeks after the last extraction of a tooth, but she got right up from my chair and said that this time it was simply nothing.

She said, "How did you do it?"

It is marvelous to myself when I think of it. Here I go on from day to day extracting hundreds really hundreds of teeth for people and they universally tell me that it did not hurt.

You won't be sick a bit afterwards if you choose me to do your dentistry.

FOUR MILLIONS LOSS BY FIRES IN STATE

And Property Valued at Twenty Million Dollars Was Affected, According to Fire Marshal's Report.

Madison, Wis., March 2.—The annual report of State Fire Marshal Thomas M. Purtell shows that the total property loss to the state during the past year amounted to $4,074,435, the number of fires being 1,707. The report was filed with Gov. Davidson today.

Property to the extent of $20,412,215 was affected, with a total insurance involved of $11,053,060. As shown in the previous report, the largest number of buildings in any one class affected was dwellings, there being a total of 692 either totally or partially destroyed, with a loss to buildings and contents aggregating $430,535. A comparison of this loss with the table of causes shows that over four hundred fires were due directly to heating apparatus.

This is important, according to the department, because investigation proved in more than 50 per cent of the fires in dwellings in which the heating plant was the primary cause and the real cause was carelessness.

Supervision of Hazards.
The report says that the aim of the department has been to impress the people with the importance of a more rigid supervision of the simple and common hazards so prevalent and which come as a rule through carelessness and indifference. While a comparison with reports received during the previous year show a material decrease in the number of fires from this source, there remains opportunity for great improvement, says Fire Marshal Purtell. Feeling that a more careful supervision of hazardous conditions would materially reduce loss, by fire, the department has inaugurated the policy of appointing local fire chiefs throughout the state as deputy fire marshals. The increased appropriation granted by the last legislature also will make it possible for the department to extend the work of supervision by appointing one expert electrician, whose duties will be not only to investigate the conditions of electrical installation throughout the state, but who also will work in co-operation with local electrical inspectors.

The department hopes to establish more uniform rules in the installation of electrical appliances. On the whole, conditions shown by the report are encouraging. The number of fires shows a decrease but the amount of loss was not lowered as much as might be expected. This may be accounted for by the fact that there were few serious losses, particularly the one which occurred last in last year at Racine, with nearly a $1,000,000 loss.

Fires of Unknown Origin.

The demand for investigation of fires of unknown origin is becoming greater as the purpose of the department is more generally understood. Demands for investigation are not confined to fires of a suspicious nature, many of them being for the purpose of disclosing the cause in order that they may be guarded against in the future. The success of the department in the prosecution of criminal cases has been more than satisfactory. There have been thirty-six cases in which actions were started, and as a result of these five were sent to jail, five to the reformatory, six to the state prison, two to the Milwaukee house of correction, one to the industrial school; sentence was suspended in two cases; seven cases are pending; three defendants were discharged after the preliminary hearing; four were acquitted, and one case was nolle.

In the prosecution of arson cases in the future material assistance can be given owing to the amendment to the law which gives the attorney for the department the right to appear jointly with the district attorney. The claim that the lightning rod when properly erected is a positive protection is strengthened by the reports received by the department during the past year. Although the past summer was notable for the number of severe storms, yet the number of fires or the destruction of property did not equal those of the previous year and in no instance was a loss reported on property which was properly protected.

The report says decided improvement has been made in celebrating the Fourth of July. The number of fires on this occasion has been greatly reduced. The number of accidents and fires coming from the storage and handling of gasoline also has been greatly reduced. Deputies have given this line of hazard special attention and hundreds of ordinances have been issued directing changes and improvements in methods of handling this explosive.

The Electric Toaster and Stove

Is a little marvel. It will toast bread to a nice, crisp brown, in a jiffy, or keep things piping hot for any length of time. It can be easily used right on the dining room table or carried to any part of the house. It is especially useful in the sick room. This little convenience is handsomely finished in nickel and is an ornament to any room. It is priced as low as any article of this kind on the market. Ask us to show it to you.

ONE-PIECE DRESSES STILL A LA MODE?

And "Where, Oh Where! Will the Waist-Lines Be?"—Questions Of the Hour At Chicago Fashion Show.

(Special to the Gazette)
Chicago, March 2.—Are one-piece dresses still in the mode? Are the spring styles radical, or will "last year's" do? What are the fables and what are the trimmings? And where, oh where! will the waist line be? For answers to these and innumerable other questions relating to the styles for the coming spring and summer one needs but to attend the Wearing Apparel, Textile and Fashion Show, which opened in the Coliseum today under the auspices of the National Trade Show Company. Every article of wearing apparel for man, woman and child is shown at the exhibition.

But more than clothes are shown. The proper way of wearing the articles exhibited is demonstrated in the various booths with live models. Fat women are shown how to dress to make themselves appear thin, and vice versa; the short may learn how to acquire seeming height and the thin may be told just how much the clothes should be padded and what patterns should be used in their construction to make him an Adonis.

Among the costumes displayed by the living models are numerous French patterns, which are not unlike "nighties" with well, suffice it to say, that they certainly cut in the shade the famous sheath gown. Then there is the bewildering array of spring hats—style straws which show which way the wind of fashion is blowing. The indications are that flowers are to reign supreme in the millinery world the coming season. Also the large hat is to retain its prestige, though there are new flares and rolls and ruffs to the brim, and in one novel transformation which attracted attention today the back and front of the hat are turned sharply up to give an airily effect.

"Three Twins."
An announcement that has met with enthusiasm is that Jos. M. Giffet's remarkable musical comedy, "Three Twins," is to appear at the Myers theatre, Friday, March 4. This delightful comedy made an instantaneous hit when it was produced in New York last season and was reluctantly allowed to leave, even after having played its three hundred and second performance. Not in years has a comedy been produced that is so genuinely funny and bright as this musical farce and the specialties are in continual collision and nearly every foot bumps pleasure and laughter. The plot, and there is a real plot, is based on a case of mistaken identities, which gives cause for many clever situations that are screamingly funny and there is much music which is unusually tuneful. The comedians of "Three Twins" have a faculty of making you listen with your eyes as well as your ears, while the pretty girls will dance their way into your heart, the minute they make their entrance. The company is large and unusually clever and well trained, and the costumes are gorgeous, especially those worn in the second act, while the electrical novelties that are introduced from time to time, are extraordinary. The music needs no introduction, as it is heard everywhere, on account of its light and sparkling melody. Many clever actors are to be found in the cast of "Three Twins."

Parliament a Refuge.
Down to 60 years ago a seat in the British parliament was a prize much sought for by men who found themselves beset by importunate creditors, inasmuch as in those times no civil action for debt could be brought against an M. P. When a dissolution occurred, this privilege of course was automatically annulled, a fact of which the creditors hastened to take full advantage. Disraeli once wrote that the only way to keep some man "out of the house of correction was to get them into the house of commons."

No Pudding for Japan.
The Japanese have no puddings, cream, pies or custards, or anything in which milk and butter are essential; and in actual cookery sweets do not play an important part. Candy and cake stores abound in all their cities and villages, for tea and cakes are always set before every guest. The foundation of all their sweetmeats is either finely ground rice flour sweetened or sugared beans. Centuries ago the Portuguese taught the Japanese to make sponge cake, which is much in favor. It is called kasutera.

WAR TO A FINISH, STATEMENT MADE

PHILADELPHIA STREET CAR DIRECTORS ISSUE THEIR ULTIMATUM.

THEY WILL NOT ARBITRATE

This Means a General Strike Will Occur Saturday—Slight Concessions Are Rejected by Employees' Union—Mayor Prepares for Emergency.

Philadelphia, Mar. 2.—After a specially called meeting of the directors of the Rapid Transit Company the following statement was issued: At a specially called meeting the directors issued this statement: "The company has decided not to change in any manner and it will not change its attitude toward arbitration. It will not arbitrate."

Means War to End. This means war to the end. It means that the great strike of 100,000 unionists will occur on Saturday; their parade upon city hall will be held on Monday. It means that either the transit company will control Philadelphia to an extent even greater than it ever has before, or it will go down to one of the most glorious defeats a corporation has ever met with.

Offer Minor Concessions. Before the ultimatum was given out, George W. Earle, one of the city's representatives on the company's directorate, sent secretly for C. O. Pratt, the leader of the striking crew men and had a short talk with him. It is understood that one or two minor concessions were offered to Pratt. He refused these because they did not include recognition of the union, and then Earle declared positive war.

When Mayor Reyburn left the meeting he announced that he would give orders that 2,000 additional policemen be sworn in and drilled in readiness for better action when the general strike occurs on Saturday. That will make a total police army of 8,000 men. "If it is needed, we will draft citizens for police duty," the mayor said. "I have not yet given up hope of peace, however." He would not explain how he thought peace might come about.

There Was But Little Rioting. There was very little rioting. A few car windows were broken by stones and half a dozen little skirmishes between police and strike sympathizers happened. But things were so quiet that the state constabulary departed, most of the members going to Bethlehem. The Fenibles, who were badly beaten and had their uniforms stripped from their backs last week were mustered out.

About one hundred cars of the normal 2,000 were running and the company declared it had received $20,000 of its $50,000 in fare.

AIMS AT INDICTED PACKERS.

Bill in Congress Defining "Fugitives" Follows New Jersey Step.

Washington, Mar. 2.—A bill framed because of the situation arising from the indictment in New Jersey of members of the alleged "beef trust" was introduced in congress by Representative Henry of Texas. It provides that the demand of the executive authority of a state, accompanied by a copy of the indictments, or an affidavit, shall be indisputable proof on which the authorities of another state must act and that no court of a state or territory to which the fugitive has fled shall ignore such demand.

CAPT. FOWLER PROVES A HERO.

Casualties in Two Nicaraguan Battles Total 225 Killed, 350 Wounded.

Managua, Nicaragua, Mar. 2.—Gradually the casualty list of the battles between the government and insurgent forces of Tlana and Tiptapa has increased, until now it is estimated that not less than 225 men were killed and 350 wounded.

It is now known that Capt. Godfrey Fowler, who was in command of Gen. Chamorro's machine guns and who was wounded in the left leg, succeeded in escaping capture, thanks to a conservative, who concealed the American for two days at his hacienda. All accounts agree that Capt. Fowler on the one side and Gen. Lara on the other were the heroes of the Tlana battle.

The effectiveness of the American machine gun was appalling. Gen. Lara charged to within ten yards of where Fowler and his men were serving them. His horse was shot under him and he miraculously escaped death. He shot five of his own men who wavered in the charge.

NEW YORK FLOODS INCREASE.

Herkimer Streets Are Under Six to Eight Feet of Water.

New York, Mar. 2.—The flood situation in the Mohawk, Upper Hudson and Genesee valleys is more alarming than ever. In other parts of the state heavy rains and melting snows have caused serious overflows of rivers and streams, which have resulted in considerable property damage. Thus far no lives have been lost, though many persons have had narrow escapes.

At Herkimer all records for high water in the Mohawk valley have been broken. Some of the streets are under six to eight feet of water and the property loss will foot for up into the thousands. Hundreds of houses here and in nearby villages have been abandoned. The waters in many instances have risen to the second story. A score of houses have collapsed.

Supreme Court Justice Devendorf and Rev. Mr. Jefferson and their families were rescued from the second stories of their homes in boats.

ASTORS ARE NOT RECONCILED.

Woman's Counsel Files Motion for Permanent Divorce Decree.

New York, Mar. 2.—All the stories about a reconciliation were set at rest when counsel for Mrs. Ava Willing Astor filed notice that she would make a motion Friday to make permanent the interlocutory decree of divorce she obtained from Col. John Jacob Astor, granted by Justice Mills at New City, in Rockland county, more than three months ago.

Among suitors for Mrs. Astor's hand report mentions Lord Curzon, Lord Herbert Vane-Tempest and Evelyn Fitzgerald.

WATER OVERWHELMS TIFFIN, O.

Two Hundred Acres of Residence District Is Swept by Water.

Tiffin, O., Mar. 2.—With a mighty roar heard for miles an immense gorge of ice in the Sandusky river gave way. A wall of water ten feet high swept down through the city, submerging 200 acres of the residential district. Those living in the path of the flood were apprised of the approaching danger, and all succeeded in reaching safety. The destruction of property is heavy.

Clergy Oppose Bigger Navy.

Boston, Mar. 2.—A remonstrance against a further increase of the American navy, signed by 500 clergymen of Boston and vicinity, representing all denominations, was forwarded to Washington to be presented to congress. The remonstrance points to the high cost of living and urges international arbitration.

DEATH IN PENNSYLVANIA WRECK.

Passenger Train Plunges Down Embankment into Ice-Filled River.

Newcastle, Pa., Mar. 2.—One man was instantly killed, one died, another is unaccounted for and believed to be dead, and nearly a score of others had narrow escapes from instant death when the Linesville accommodation, a passenger train on the Erie and Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, jumped the track at Rock Point park and plunged down a 15-foot embankment into the ice-filled Beaver river.

The engineer and fireman of the train were carried into the river with the locomotive and were rescued by means of a long hose.

Panama's President Is Dead.

Panama, Mar. 2.—Jose Domingo de Obaldia, president of the Republic of Panama, died of heart disease after an illness of only five days. Dr. C. A. Mendoza will assume the presidency.

REPORTS ON THE GOLDMAN AFFAIR

should fall on the individual alone. We believe that the board of regents should announce such to be the rule of the university.

To determine whether any anarchistic or socialist doctrines, or doctrines which endanger the institutions of existing society, are taught at the university, students selected at random from the various classes in the department of political economy by a committee of the board of visitors were examined, and conferences were held with members of the faculty of that department at which complete outlines of the lectures given were submitted. The books which are used as text-books therein as well as those discussing society and its problems written by members of the faculty were read. This investigation disclosed nothing that would warrant the charge that anarchistic, socialist, or other dangerous doctrines are being taught in the university. On the contrary, investigation disclosed striking instances of foreigners who have come to the university as students believing in anarchy and violence, who have been led to discard such beliefs through the instruction given at the university.

The general purpose of the instruction given was stated to be not to prove or disprove any particular theory or doctrine, but to enable the student to know and to fit him to facts and conditions; to fit him to solve for himself the problems of society; to lead him forth with a solution for all the problems that he may encounter.

The board of visitors finds that the instruction given in the university, including that given by Professor Ross, is such as to strengthen, not to weaken, respect for government and the institutions of existing society.

Good Substitute for Reality.

A New York woman who likes to have flowers in her windows but finds it impracticable to do so in the city has artificial ones painted on the glass. The windows are high up above the street and the flowers are in colors to enable them to be seen more easily. The apartment house in which the woman lives is on Broadway, and the effect of the art is very striking.

That Little Hacking Cough

Hard coughs are bad enough, to be sure. But it's often the little, hacking, tickling, persistent cough that means the most, especially when there is a history of weak lungs in the family. What should be done? Ask your doctor. He knows. Ask him about the formula on the label of every bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask him if this medicine has his full approval for throat and lung troubles. Then do as he says.

TOLD STRANGE TALE TO THE DIRECTORS

Man Who Lost His Identity Years Ago Finds Out Who He Is.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
La Crosse, Wis., March 2.—A sensation was created last night when at a special meeting of the directors of the city mission, the Rev. Harry Barton, superintendent of the mission and one of the best known religious workers in La Crosse, made a voluntary statement that he had been living under an assumed name. His real name, he said, is Norton H. Hotherington. Following Mr. Norton gave a full story of his life. He had been a business man in New Brunswick and candidate of a liberal party for parliament and was sandbagged on the street. Afterwards he was unable to remember his name or any previous history, but being told by the attendants that he had uttered the name Norton in his delirium he adopted that name. For the next two years he was engaged in religious work in New York and while conducting a scripture lesson one day his past history suddenly revealed itself to him but on account of the connections he had made in religious circles he decided to let his past remain a secret. Mr. Norton showed letters from the chief of police of New Brunswick and Wilbert White, president of the Bible Teacher's Training School in New York, testifying as to his good character.

Mr. Norton has become famous throughout this section as the "hobo's friend" and has proved a very efficient worker. He tendered his resignation with his explanation but the directors refused to accept his resignation.

FOR CONSTIPATION

A Medicine that Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Gives Satisfactory Relief.

If you suffer from constipation in any form whatever, acute or chronic, we will guarantee to supply you medicine that will honestly believe will effect permanent relief if taken with regularity and according to directions for a reasonable length of time. Should the medicine fail to benefit you to your entire satisfaction, we promise that it shall cost you nothing.

No other remedy can be compared with Rexall Orderlies for the easy, pleasant and successful treatment of constipation. The active medicinal ingredient of this remedy, which is an entirely new discovery, combined with other valuable ingredients, it forms a preparation which is incomparable as a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorant and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, and are notable for their gentle and agreeable action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience, and may be taken at any time, day or night.

We particularly recommend Rexall Orderlies for children and for delicate or aged persons, because they do not contain anything injurious. Unlike other preparations, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the habits acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics, and harsh physic, and remove the causes of constipation or irregular bowel action that are not of surgical variety.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. We know of nothing that will do you so much good. They are prepared in tablet form in two sizes: 25 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

PROFESSOR GEORGE BURNHAM POSTER of the University of Chicago has recently preached a sermon in a Chicago church on the stupidity of sectarianism. He says that he hopes this "separation of congregations that ought to be together" will some day pass away.

This boldly expressed hope has given me the courage to bring forth a certain Utopian vision I have long cherished.

If you have no patience with Utopian visions, stop here. This is not my dream. It is a vision of a church in each community.

All the people who wanted to worship God in any way would belong to this church.

It would have no creed. Its members would believe exactly what they wished about God. If one wished to believe him a divine personage, giving personal attention to each whispered prayer and another wanted to believe him just a vague and wonderful force behind creation and in nature, that would make no difference. Both would be eligible to membership in this church.

Of a Sunday morning when our neighborhood goes forth to church some go one way and some another.

Most of the churches to which they go are solemn and all are constantly struggling to make both ends meet.

Several of them are separated by very slight doctrinal differences. Why not one large, well supported church where each may believe his own way but all worship together?

My ideal church has one or more large church buildings, according to the size and needs of the community.

The buildings are the most beautiful in the city. The sermons are preached by great and good men from all professions as well as by the regular ministers.

That the convenience of all may be met there is a service every hour or two all day Sunday. In order to suit all tastes, the taste that likes a simple, intellectual service, and the taste that likes an elaborate, sensual service, with music and incense and choir boys and candles, there are all these kinds of services at different times.

Since there is plenty of money there can always be plenty of the most beautiful music and the most talented men of the age can be asked to come and give their beautiful thoughts to the congregation.

The church will be opened during the week both for services and for social and philanthropic work. The "good of a world of men" will be the business of the church, as well as the worship of God.

The members will all be well paid. There will be no need of undignified begging for money.

The community will believe as individuals as before, but worship as a splendid unit.

There will be no rich man's church and around the corner a poor man's chapel. Each for all and all for each.

The men and women who are unwilling to subscribe to any elaborate creed will be able to belong to this church where all are eligible that believe in some higher power deserving men's worship.

Is it a foolish, impossible dream?

If such a church could be founded would it be founded only to break into seeds again at the first disagreement?

I wonder. But anyhow, I like to think about it.

THE WIFE WHO DOES NOT GROW

By MARY RUSSELL

Every now and then some poor, shrewd and uneducated man rushes into print with a sorrowful tale of how his wife has neglected her opportunities and refused to climb up the ladder side by side with him.

He bewails the fact that, while he has tried himself for flights into the upper atmosphere, she plays along down below and he feels greatly aggrieved thereby.

When a man begins to whine about his wife's failure to grow, or that she is not in sympathy with him, just watch the divorce court proceedings. Ten to one he has some one who does understand him and is able to breathe deep in that rare atmosphere into which he has climbed.

Hunt out the real story of his life, not the one he is anxious to tell you, and you will probably read a tale of self-sacrifice and self-immolation on the part of the wife.

She has gone without clothes that he might appear in the business world in decent raiment. She, of course, could not go out with him in her shabby gown, so she stayed at home and dropped behind in the race he was running.

How could she help but drop behind? He could go among people of culture and refinement and it seldom is shown that he made an effort to bring any of it home. Generally he is too taken up with "business" and other things to even be pleasant in the little home. He begins to feel his limitations and to regret the early marriage with the pretty girl who has given her youth and strength, and loyalty all these years. Had he not married her he probably would never have amounted to anything. It was her love and self-sacrifice that gave him the opportunity to do the things which he thinks he did all alone.

The American woman is noted for her ability to take on a surface culture. She can slip gracefully over a place that would trip the average man, and when a man begins to complain he is either a rank hypocrite or a man who had to keep busy showing good judgment to atone for the bad judgment he displayed when meeting his life's partner.

One charming woman says that whenever a man begins to tell her that his wife does not understand him she puts him on the "labor" list. She understands him so well that she does not want to hear his sad story.

That he will always find women to listen to him, more's the pity! And too often the listener is a young and unsophisticated girl just out of school. And she is sorry for her because she understands him so well, and so the old story is repeated again, and either she carries a sore heart for all her life or she goes through the misery of waiting for him to be free, and then—well he is soon telling some other woman how his wife can't understand him. Beware of the misunderstood married man! He should be labeled "dang crank!"

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE ESKIMOS.

Now that the way has been blazed it will hereafter be a comparatively easy matter to reach the pole. And civilization, stopped for a time by the arctic circle, will march northward.

But the Eskimo does not want our civilization. He is instinctively afraid lest it may mean the extinction of his race.

"We do not want your way of living," says the Eskimo to the explorer-missionary. "It is perhaps good for you. We are content as it is. Make us accept your civilization and we will all perish."

Whereas we wonder. These primitive people are so hospitable and kind hearted and they have such hard lives! We long to make their harsh and forbidding lives easier and, as we think, happier.

But the Eskimo sits beside his igloo, that ice hut with just two crude articles of furniture, the whole family sleeping bench and the big oil lamp stove, and listens to the tribal rumor of the coming of the white man with a great fear in his heart.

Well, the "little brown men" that stood by Cook and Peary as they have stood by all the arctic explorers in their search for the summit of the world are entitled to a lion's share of the honors that have been won, and their wishes ought to be respected by the world.

Our civilization would ruin them, as it has ruined the aborigines of America. Living in the bleak barrens of the northland, the Eskimo through centuries of struggle has adopted the only mode of living that makes his existence possible.

And perhaps, after all, we have not so very much to offer him. His religion may be a crude sort, but practically it is the essence of Christianity.

There are no pauper Eskimos. No one is rich, and no one is poor. All things are in common.

"Do some people in your land starve and shiver while others eat and are warmly clad?" asked a shocked Eskimo of an explorer who was surprised at their great kindness. The explorer was compelled to reply that "some do."

"Why, then," said the native, "do you call yourselves civilized?"

The explorer found it hard to answer. Can you?

YOU protect your stock of goods. You check each shipment of goods you receive with the invoice, to make sure you are not "shipped short." You insure your goods against loss by fire.

Your money, when placed in your bank, is reasonably safe. So far so good. BUT, HOW ABOUT YOUR MONEY FROM THE TIME IT LEAVES YOUR CUSTOMER'S HANDS UNTIL IT IS PLACED IN THE BANK? How about the hours it lies uncounted and unprotected in your cash drawer?

Mr. Merchant: When your goods are on your shelves all insurance has stopped—unless your present method of handling your business absolutely insures your getting a full dollar's return for every dollar's worth of merchandise sold—unless it positively insures you that a permanent record will be made of every charge sale.

But, does your present method insure you this?

Think this over. Many merchants go to considerable trouble to protect their goods and to check their bank accounts, but they seem to forget all about their money and accounts in their stores.

A National Cash Register is the connecting link between your stock of goods and your bank account.

It safeguards your money and accounts against loss.

Without it you cannot hope to bank all your profits.

Over 800,000 merchants are using National Cash Registers. Isn't that evidence that you need one?

drugs in order to be made well.

The great new relief of Chiropractic has shown the world that in order to be made well, and to remain well, it is necessary to remove the cause of the disease, and not simply to treat the symptoms with drugs. Every disease is the result of some fault in the body which controls every function and organ of the entire human system and every nerve (thousands in all) pass through the spine. When certain nerves do not perform their function you become sick. The way to remove the cause of the sickness is to get at the nervous system and not working.
This is done by Chiropractic adjustment of the spine. Almost every ailment is curable by the Chiropractic method. If you suffer from sickness of any kind, call for free consultation and advice.

OF THE VIRTUE OF

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

What is the use of procrastinating in the face of such evidence as the following letters represent? If you are a sick woman or know one who is, what sensible reason have you for not giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? For 30 years we have been publishing such testimonial letters as these—thousands of them—they are genuine and honest, too, every one of them.

Mrs. S. J. Barber says:

"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women—and I feel it my duty to let others know the good it has done for me. Three years ago I had a tumor which the doctor said would have to be removed by an operation or I could not live more than a year, or two, at most. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, and took 14 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today the tumor is gone and I am a perfectly well woman. I hope my testimonial will be of benefit to others."—Mrs. S. J. Barber, Scott, N. Y.

Mrs. George May says:

"No one knows what I have suffered from female troubles, neuralgia, pains, and backache. My doctor said he could not give me anything to cure it. Through the advice of a friend I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the pain soon disappeared. I continued its use and am now in perfect health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a Godsend to me as I believe I should have been in my grave if it had not been for Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. George May, 80 4th Ave., Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. E. F. Hayes says:

"I was under the doctor's treatment for a fibroid tumor, suffering with pain, nervousness, bloating, and could not walk or stand on my feet any length of time. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, followed her directions and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Today I am a well woman, the tumor was expelled, and my whole system strengthened. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. F. Hayes, 2800 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Mrs. W. K. Housh says:

"I have been completely cured of a severe female trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and want to recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. W. K. Housh, 7 Eastview Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is for sale at Smith's Pharmacy, The Rexall Store, as well as other Patent Medicines Advertised in this paper.

CHAPTER XIII.

Miss Dangerfield Takes a Prisoner.

A dozen men carrying rifles across their saddle-bows rode away from Habersham's farm on the outskirts of Turner Court House and struck a rough trail that led a devious course over the hills. At their head rode the guide of the expedition—a long silent man on a mule. Griswold and Habersham followed immediately behind him on horseback. Their plans had been carefully arranged before they left their rendezvous, and save for an occasional brief interchange between the prosecuting attorney and the governor's special representative, the party jogged on in silence. Habersham's recruits were, it may be said, farmers of the border, who had awaited for years just such an opportunity as now offered to avenge themselves upon the insolent Appleweights. Nearly every man of the party had some private score to settle, but they had all been sworn to special constables and were seared by the knowledge that the power of the state of South Carolina was back of them.

Thus, at the very hour that Mr. Ardmore and his lieutenant rode away from the lonely anchorage of the caboose, Prof. Griswold and his cavaliers set out for Mount Nebo church. When the master of Ardrey was rallying himself upon the duke of Bevilacqua, his dearest friend, against whom he had closed the doors of his house, was losing no time in setting forth upon a mission which, if successful, would seriously interfere with all Mr. Ardmore's hopes and plans.

The guide of the expedition pushed his mule forward at a fast walk, making no excuses to Griswold and Habersham for the roughness of the trails he chose, nor troubling to give warning of sharp turns where a horse, being less sure than a mule, to boggle, usually before finding a foothold. Occasionally a low hanging limb switched the associate professor sharply across the face, but his temper continued serene where the trail was darkest and steepest, and he found himself ignoring Habersham's occasional polite questions about the university in his efforts to summon up in memory certain ways of Carina Osborne, which baffled him.

"Check up, carbina!" snarled the man on the mule, laying hold of Griswold's rein and thus halted, Griswold found that they had been circling round a curiously symmetrical, thickly wooded hill, and had finally come to a clearing whence they were able to gaze far off toward the north.

"We are almost out of bounds," said Habersham, pointing. "Over there somewhere, across the hills, lies North Carolina. I am as thoroughly lost as you can possibly be; but these men know where they are. How far is it, Billy?" he addressed the silent guide.

"To Mount Nebo."

"About four miles, and I reckon we'd better get out a little now or they'll be here."

"The clasp of the church presented in the moonlight the austere outlines, and as the men waited, a rude though unseen hand was slamming the wooden shutters that protected the windows from impious violence."

"We could do with less moon," muttered Habersham, as he and Griswold peered through the trees into the churchyard.

"There goes Bill Appleweight now," whispered one of the natives at his elbow, and Griswold felt his heart beat quicken as he watched a tall figure silhouette against the church and moving swiftly toward the rear of the building. At the front of the church voices sounded, as the departing worshippers rode or drove slowly away.

Habersham laid his hand suddenly on Griswold's arm.

"They've got him! They've nailed him! See! There! They're yanking him back into the timber. They've taken him and his horse!"

Griswold saw nothing but a momentary confusion of shadows, then perfect silence hung over the woods behind the little church. The congregation was slowly dispersing, riding away in little groups. Suddenly a voice called out in the road 100 yards beyond the church:

"Hey, there! Where's Bill?"

"Oh, he's gone long ago!" yelled another.

In a moment more the church door slammed and a last figure rode rapidly away.

"Now we'll see what's happened," said Habersham. "It looks almost too easy."

What's that light away off there?" asked Habersham.

The guide paused to examine, and the faint glow far down the vale seemed to perplex him. He spoke to one or two other natives and they viewed the light ruminatively, as is their way.

"That must be an Ardmore's land," said the leader finally. "It shoots out all sorts of ways round hych, and I reckon that's what Haccoon creek cuts through."

"That's very likely," said Habersham. "I've seen the plot of what Ardmore owns on this side the border at the courthouse, and I remember that there's a long strip in Mingo county that is Ardrey's land. Ardmore has houses of one kind and another scattered all over the estate and those lights may be from one of them. You know the place, don't you?"

"Yes, I've visited there," admitted Griswold. "But we'd better give it a wide berth. The whole estate is simply infested with scurlet fever. They're quarantined."

"I guess that's a joke," said Habersham. "There's a big party on there now, and I have seen some of the guests in Turner's within a day or two."

"Within how many days?" demanded Griswold, his heart sinking at the thought that Ardmore had led him to keep him away from Ardrey—from Ardmore's house! The thought of it really hurt him now.

"Can't you call?" called Habersham. Half the company rode ahead to gain the farther side of the church; the remainder, including Griswold and Habersham, soon dismounted and tied their horses out of sight of the country road which they had lately been following.

"We are in plenty of time," said Habersham, looking at his watch. "The rest of the boys are closing in from the other side and they will be ready for Appleweight when he finishes his devotions. We've been studying the old man's habits and he has a particular place where he ties his horse back of the church. It's a little apart from the fence where most of the congregation hitch, and he chose it, no doubt, because in case of a surprise he would have plenty of room for maneuvering. Two men are going to lay for him, seize and gag him and carry him into the wood back of the church; and then we'll off across the state line to lock him up in jail at Kildare and give Gov. Dangerfield the shock of his life."

"It sounds simple enough; but it won't be long before Appleweight's friends miss him. You must remember that they are a shrewd lot."

"We've got to take our chances. Let's hope we are as shrewd as they are," replied Habersham. They moved softly through the wood and presently the faint sound of singing reached them.

"Old Habdick has finished his sermon and we'll know the worst in a few minutes."

One of the party had already detached himself and crept forward toward the church, to meet his appointed comrade in the enterprise, who was to come in from the other side.

The clasp of the church presented in the moonlight the austere outlines, and as the men waited, a rude though unseen hand was slamming the wooden shutters that protected the windows from impious violence.

"We could do with less moon," muttered Habersham, as he and Griswold peered through the trees into the churchyard.

"There goes Bill Appleweight now," whispered one of the natives at his elbow, and Griswold felt his heart beat quicken as he watched a tall figure silhouette against the church and moving swiftly toward the rear of the building. At the front of the church voices sounded, as the departing worshippers rode or drove slowly away.

Habersham laid his hand suddenly on Griswold's arm.

"They've got him! They've nailed him! See! There! They're yanking him back into the timber. They've taken him and his horse!"

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The county option issue is expected to figure prominently in the coming state campaigns in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Attorney General Wickersham will be the chief speaker at the Appointment Day dinner of the Hamilton club in Chicago next month.

John W. Gates, whose financial speculations have made him a national character, is mentioned as a possible candidate for governor of Texas at the republican ticket.

At the city election next month Chicagoans will be given their first opportunity to vote on the question of saloons or no saloons.

Judge Anderson S. Reddenberry has been elected to congress from the Second district of Georgia to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Representative James H. Griggs.

Senator Miles of Washington will probably retire from office at the end of his present term to become the legal representative of the Guggenheim interests.

Two hundred and sixty-three of the 320 members of the national house of representatives, or nearly 70 per cent, were born in the states they represent.

Michigan's "dry" territory may be increased next month when a number of counties are to exercise their privilege of voting on the question of abolishing the saloons.

The free-for-all race for the republican gubernatorial nomination in North Dakota is likely to receive impetus soon by announcement of Judge Nehemiah Davis, of Minn., of his candidacy for the nomination.

Governor Harman of Ohio, Governor Marshall of Indiana, and Mayor Gay of New York are expected to be the chief speakers at the big democratic banquet to be held in Washington next month in celebration of Jefferson's birthday.

Seven senators were born outside the United States. Lorimer of Illinois, Webster of Rhode Island, and Sutherland of Utah were born in England. Stephenson of Wisconsin and Gallinger of New Hampshire are natives of Canada. Nelson of Minnesota is a native of Norway, and Oliver of Pennsylvania was born in Ireland while his parents were visiting in that country.

Since Galveston established the precedent less than ten years ago nearly all of the leading cities of Texas have adopted the commission plan of government. Included among the number are Houston, Dallas, El Paso, San Antonio, Sherman, Palestine, Waco, Fort

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, March 2, 1870.—On Division street, in the Third Ward, resided a German family, consisting of a man and wife and five children, who were very poor. They had been long in the country, and the husband and father had been very ill and unable to work, and as a consequence the family had been reduced to the lowest state of destitution, barely keeping soul and body together. They seem to be intelligent people, and the woman makes beautiful lace and other ornamental trimmings.

Jottings.—Today commences the season of Lent, the time when all good Episcopalians and Catholics are supposed to abstain from all the frivolities of life, ignore meat, give themselves to fasting and a contemplation of the things which pertain more especially to the spirit world. The season lasts until April 15th.

A young unmarried local gentleman of this city, found himself last evening at a party where there were four young married women whose husbands were not present, and it fell to the lot of the disciple of Blackstone to accompany each of them home. A clear case of non-suit.

Win. Mills, a man of 64 years of age, residing in the town of Plymouth in this county, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn, on Monday last. He told his wife he was going to the postoffice but instead of doing so he went to the barn, built a scaffold and committed the fatal act. His home before coming to this country was in Vermont. He was a man of intemperate habits, and before the commission of the deed complained of neuritis. A wife and three grown-up children are left to mourn the painful event.

ESTELLE STOUT FREED ON THE FIRST BALLOT

Jury Declares Young Woman Not Guilty of the Murder of Picture Agent.

Chicago, Mar. 2.—Estelle Stout was acquitted of the charge of murder by a jury in Judge Baldwin's court.

Hardly seeming to realize that she was free, and that she would not have to go to the reformatory or penitentiary, the girl appeared dazed, answering the reading of the verdict with only a smile.

Completely unnerfed when the truth gradually unfolded itself, she sank back into her chair and for several moments was unable to rise. She was assisted from the room by her attorney, Raymond W. Beach, and taken to his office.

Miss Stout was charged with the murder of Henry Hornberger, a pastel portrait collector, at the home of her brother-in-law, George Chambers, December 6, 1908.

The killing of Hornberger, it was shown, followed a quarrel over a picture frame in which the man handled Mrs. Chambers roughly. Estelle, fearing he would do them serious injury, shot the man. He walked out to his wagon and fell dead.

The coroner's jury exonerated the girl, but in February, 1909, the dead man's widow caused her arrest by producing a witness who swore that the shot was not fired until Hornberger had left the house and was in the street.

COL. ROOSEVELT ESCAPES FEVER

African Fever Deals Death In Wake of American Expedition.

Gondokoro, Sudan, Mar. 2.—Roosevelt had attended the American hunters and scientists, and this time they may be congratulated upon their escape from the African fever, which has followed in the wake of the expedition.

Dr. Rodolphe Prosser, a French medical missionary, who had lunched with Mr. Roosevelt, died of fever the day after the former president left. At a camp adjoining that occupied by the Americans here an English sportsman seriously ill following a trip to Kampala, capital of Uganda, and one of the places at which the expedition stopped. The district commissioner of Gondokoro, the British officials of which were active in entertaining their American guests, has been stricken with the fever.

When Col. Roosevelt and the others of his party left here on the steamer that they were apparently in good health and little the worse for their rough experiences.

Aged Man Suicides.

Rockford, Ill., Mar. 2.—Henry Spohn, aged 74 years, jumped from the 40-foot bridge at Janesville into Rock river and was drowned. His body lodged in the mill race and necessitated shutting down of the electric plant and wooden mill to allow its recovery.

CANT' WAKE HYPNOTIZED MAN.

Subject Is Put to Sleep by Long Distance "Phone."

Hughaw, Mich., Mar. 2.—A sensation was caused here when the police removed from the show window of a local music house David Anderson, a young man who had lain in trance for 50 hours under the hypnotic influence of a man styling himself Prof. Powers. The authorities are trying to arouse Anderson, but he is insensible to every device employed, and lies like one dead in a room in the Wesley hotel.

Anderson was put under the hypnotic spell Saturday evening by long distance telephone from Lansing.

When Candy Is Good for a Child.

The average healthy child of ten or 12 should be able to eat of pure candy the equivalent in weight of two or three lumps of sugar after his mid-day meal. This, however, should not be given him unless other proper foods, in sufficient quantity, are eaten, and should never be allowed between meals. Butter-tarts and molasses candy, made at home of pure materials, are especially to be recommended, and may be considered valuable articles of food.—Jean Williams, M. D., in Woman's Home Companion.

just a neighborly talk:

THE NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was chartered in 1857 on the petition of 36 prominent Wisconsin men. Organized as a purely mutual company and the welfare of policyholders being the paramount consideration, the officers of the company have always been conservative and careful so that this has come to be a fixed habit in Northwestern management.

Despite the early handicaps of location, limitation and competition, the Northwestern's liberality to policyholders, coupled with its remarkably low rate of expense for operating (for more than 30 years the lowest in the United States), the saving in mortality, from care in the selection of risks, and the high earning power of its assets, has made it one of the most prominent insuring and financial institutions in the United States.

Wisconsin has always been intimately connected with the affairs of this great company; 36 of its choicest pioneer citizens were its charter members and thousands of the sons and daughters of the pioneer State have shared its half-century of endeavor and beneficence. Wisconsin men have always managed the Northwestern and its present official and operating force is composed of Wisconsin citizens. Of its 36 trustees, 25 are residents of Wisconsin. There are 6 general agencies in Wisconsin and each of those employs many district and sub-agents. January 1, 1910, the company had outstanding 34,151 policies on the lives of Wisconsin men, and, some day, the company will pay Wisconsin beneficiaries on account thereof, more than $75,000,000.

So the Northwestern is truly the HOME COMPANY, which has amply repaid Wisconsin in money and honor for its organization.

Spending of money: The Northwestern has been liberal to Wisconsin. Disregarding payments for salaries, supplies, and the like, it has paid Wisconsin policyholders and their beneficiaries a total of $17,533,535.97 for death claims and endowments.

It has outstanding $2,639,221.67 to Wisconsin men on account of policy loans.

It has also now loaned $5,542,732.50 to Wisconsin borrowers on the security of real-estate mortgages.

In the last eleven years, since the existing tax law has been operative, Wisconsin has received from the Northwestern as a Tax for the mere Privilege of Doing Business in the State, the enormous sum of $3,230,766.18, every cent of which was paid by Policyholders.

The prevailing method of taxing life insurance companies in the United States is a percentage on premium receipts. The average rate is about 2 per cent.

In 1909, the Northwestern paid the State of Wisconsin the enormous sum of $403,238.68 in taxes alone, for the privilege of collecting from Wisconsin policyholders, and again disbursing, the sum of $2,549,205.66 premium receipts. This was at the rate of 15.8 per cent, or about eight times the average rate paid in other states.

Wisconsin's existing method of taxing the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company is a glaring injustice to all the policyholders of the company, for, in the final analysis, they pay the taxes.

And carry this other proposition in mind: The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company issues a policy so adaptable in meeting unforeseen circumstances, so comprehensive in its protection of all the interests of insured and beneficiaries, so equitable in its terms, and so economical in its cost (owing to large dividend returns) that it is the very best company in which to insure.

A statement of the 1909 receipts and disbursements with an exhibit of the company's assets, etc., as well as information concerning the New Policy will be mailed to any person, on request, by the following Wisconsin General Agents:

David N. Cameron, Cook Block, Oshkosh.
